

Multiple-Choice Questions

1. Why had Kat been selected for the mission?
  - a she was timid
  - b she was gutsy
  - c she was cowardly
  - d she was nervous
  - e she was happy

2. What had Kat been doing before taking off in a plane?
  - a eating her dinner
  - b chatting with her friends
  - c playing games
  - d writing coded messages
  - e getting ready for bed

3. Why did the S.O.E. decide to use a child to carry out their mission?
  - a it was easier for a child to squeeze through small gaps
  - b because children are generally fearless
  - c because none of the adults spoke French
  - d because they thought a child would be able to talk their way out of trouble
  - e because they preferred to risk a child's life than an adult's

4. What did Kat have to learn about when she was on the plane?
  - a how to use explosives
  - b how to use a parachute
  - c how to use knives
  - d how to write in code
  - e how to read a map

5. “That’s your prerogative,” replied Oater, “but this could represent a turning point in the war.”

What does Oater mean when he tells Kat that it’s ‘her prerogative’?

- a that it is her duty to complete the mission
- b that it is her responsibility to agree to the challenge
- c that she shouldn’t be scared of what lies ahead
- d that she shouldn’t doubt her own abilities
- e that she has every right to say no