Missing punctuation

Read part of the story below.

There are 4 missing full stops, 5 missing CAPITAL LETTERS, 4 missing commas and 1 missing exclamation mark.

Can you add them to the story?

max wasn't so excited anymore he could see all the damage the storm had brought to the bay and that meant no more visitors he could see all the plastic bottles on the shore and in the water and he knew what could happen to the wildlife if they were left on the beach

by now lots of people had gathered on the beach to help and they were carrying big bags filling them with the plastic bottles the bottles were difficult to find under all the bubbles and foam they needed more help and they needed it fast

What do you think Max was thinking when he could see the cars arriving in Puddleton Bay?
